

Most organizations perform projects as a means of achieving their strategic goals and objectives or as the primary means of producing products or services for their customers.

Contact DLB Associates, LLC at dbolles@dlballc.com for a PDF copy Section 1 of The Power of Enterprise-Wide Project Management that describes how organizations can manage and integrate strategic planning, development of business objectives and management of portfolios, programs, and projects. Please contact me to arrange for consulting and speaking engagements.

THE POWER OF ENTERPRISE-WIDE PROJECT MANAGEMENT

AMACOM 2007

The Power of Enterprise-wide Project Management

by Dennis L. Bolles and Darrel G. Hubbard

In today's global market executives in companies, regardless of industry and size, are looking to improve their management systems and processes to become more competitive. One way they are doing this is by establishing project management as a core competency enterprise-wide within their organization. The list of organizations attempting to integrate project management disciplines and best practices into the way they manage their businesses is expanding daily; however, those who have succeeded in doing so is significantly smaller.

The Power of Enterprise Project Management serves as a straightforward guide for executives and senior managers to successfully establish project business management (PBM) as an integrative business function within forward thinking companies. The PBM methodology model developed in the book provides a simple easy to follow top-down hierarchically integrated blend of business oriented strategic, tactical, portfolio, program, and project planning and execution processes.

Building Project Management Centers of Excellence

Dennis Bolles

AMACOM 2002

Building Project Centers of Excellence

by Dennis L. Bolles, PMP

It's been shown again and again that business components from R & D to systems, engineering to manufacturing can benefit from a project-centered management approach. Now, organizations that have had success at the departmental or divisional level are taking the project management (PM) approach to new levels, adopting PM standards into across-the-board management philosophies and business strategies.

This new model is known as the Project Management Center of Excellence. PMCoEs need every group within the organization to work under the PM model, but more important, they need the proper tools to implement PM standards in new areas. A crucial tool in developing project management objectives across the company, this book covers:

- Positioning project management as a business strategy
- Creating and managing an organizational PM portfolio
- Education, training, and internal PM certification programs
- Classifying projects, benchmarking, and mapping a methodology.

Includes templates, figures, definitions, and a free CD-ROM featuring a complete methodology and guidelines for establishing a department of project management.

The books can be ordered on Amazon.com or the PMI Book Store where you can find them by entering the author's name Dennis Bolles in the search box. Additional information can be found on the web site of DLB Associates, LLC at www.dlballc.com.

The latest news:

- April 4, 2007 – Guest speaker presenting a Webinar entitled The Power of Metrics in Enterprise-Wide project Management. for the PMI Metrics Special Interest Group International Congress.
- June 18-19 2007 – Guest speaker presenting The Power of Enterprise-Wide project Management for the PMI St. Petersburg, Russia 2007 International Congress.
- September 2007 - Guest speaker presenting The Value and Benefits of Project Management for Farm Credit of Canada PMO Kick-off Meeting in Regina Saskatchewan, Canada.
- October 8-9, 2007 – Guest speaker presenting Success – A Project Business Management Methodology Model: Provides the Power of Enterprise-Wide project Management for the PMI North American Congress in Atlanta, GA.
- October 29-30, 2007 - Guest speaker presenting The Power of Enterprise-Wide Project Management for the Blue Cross Blue Shield National conference in Raleigh, North Carolina.
- March 3-5, 2008 – Guest Speaker presenting “The Power of Enterprise-Wide Project Management” for the PMI Asia Pacific Congress in Sydney, Australia.
- The Power of Enterprise-Wide Project Management has been nominated for the 2007 PMI David L. Cleland Project Management Literature of the Year Award by Lead Nominator: Hugh Woodward, PMP, PMI Fellow, Past Chairman, Project Management Institute and eight supporting nominators.
- The Power of Enterprise-Wide Project Management sold 951 copies from December 5th thru 31st with 425 being sold outside the USA.

Regards,

Dennis Bolles, PMP

DLB Associates, LLC

“Building Project Management Centers of Excellence” AMACOM 2002

“The Power of Enterprise-Wide Project Management” AMACOM 2006

120 Beth Street

Holland, MI 49424

Phone: (616) 392-2292

Cell: (616) 403-2045

Website: www.dlballc.com

Project Business Management (PBM): The utilization of general business management and project management knowledge, skills, tools, and techniques in applying portfolio, program, and project processes to meet or exceed stakeholder needs, and to derive benefits from and capture value through any project-related actions and activities used to accomplish the enterprise’s business objectives and related strategies.